Married Man Shoots and Kills Another's Wife, Then Ends Own Life.

NO EYE-WITNESS OF TRAGEDY

Three Suicides and Two Murders in Roanoke Within One Week.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., February 27.—A double tragedy was enacted here this afternoon in the heart of the fashionable residence section of the city, when David E. Linkenhoker shot and killed Mrs. Warren L. Painter and then turned the revolver on himself and ended his own life, both bodies falling side by side on the pavement.

There was no eyewitness to the tragedy, and the cause which prompted Linkenhoker is not known. It is generally thought that he was driven to desperation owing to the fact that the husband of the dead woman is said to have recently warned him against his alleged attentions to Mrs. Painter.

Linkenhoker was formerly employed on the Norfolk and Western Railroad as an engineer, and was discharged recently because of misconduct. The dead man was forty-five years old and leaves a widow and five children, while Mrs. Painter is survived by her husband and seven children.

Mrs. Painter was the wife of an engineer employed on the Norfolk and Western Railway. She was forty years old and a native of Rockbridge County. She was formerly a Miss Grant, of Horace Creek.

Both the man and woman lived in the same neighborhood and were well known among the railroad men here. While details concerning the alleged relations between Linkenhoker and Mrs. Painter are meagre, it is generally thought that owing to the conditions that existed between the man and woman, a pact to carry out the tragedy. When the bodies were discovered in the street, a minute or so after the shooting, a revolver was lying between them. Mrs. Painter was neatly dressed in a gray suit, black hat and kid gloves. Linkenhoker wore a dark suit.

When the coroner arrived and examined the bodies he found that Mrs. Painter had been shot immediately behind the right ear and Linkenhoker shot himself just under the left temple. Death was instantaneous in both cases.

Mr. Painter, the husband of the dead woman, was not in the city at the time of the tragedy, having gone out on his run in the afternoon.

Coroner Simmons will have a jury view the bodies, but there will be no inquest, since there are no witnesses to the tragedy. Mrs. Linkenhoker and her children and the children of the murdered woman were overcome with grief.

To-day's dual tragedy makes three suicides and two murders recorded in the coroner's office within the past week. Conductor Myers shot himself on Saturday night, Mrs. Fell drowned herself in Roanoke River on Friday night, and Monday morning Richard A. Joyce was shot and killed by A. M. Dillman.

DORR FOUND GUILTY

He Must Pay Penalty for Murder of George E. Marsh.

Salts, Mass., February 7.—William A. Dorr, of Stockton, Cal., was found guilty to-day of the murder of George E. Marsh, of Lynn. The jury was out two hours.

The prisoner, when the court was about to charge the jury, rose from his seat in his usual eager and in a voice quivering cried out:

"I have just a few words I would like to say to reassure what I have said in the stand. Although I am 4,000 miles away from home, I feel that this jury will do what is right."

The body of Marsh, who was seventy-seven years old, was found in the marshes near the Boulevard in Lynn, April 12, 1912. He had been shot. The bullet first fell on Dorr when he returned to his home in Stockton, Cal., after a hurried visit in the East.

It was found he had masqueraded in Lynn as Willis A. Dow and so made the acquaintance of Marsh. The latter was not seen alive after he got into an automobile for a ride with Dorr the afternoon of April 11 last.

In summing up, District Attorney Atwill said that the death of Marsh was a murder, deliberately planned by Dorr, who believed that either Marsh dead he would profit by a legacy which would revert to his aunt.

Dorr heard the verdict in the first degree with little display of emotion.

WITNESS AGAINST 'PASTOR' RUSSELL

His Wife Tells How He Makes Money From Religious Activities.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, February 27.—Mrs. Maria Francis Russell, who is separated from her husband, "Pastor" Russell, of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, was a witness against her husband to-day at a hearing before the City Commission. Pastor Russell is claiming exemption from taxation of his many publications and business enterprises, on the ground that all his activities are philanthropic and religious.

Mrs. Russell, who secured a separation from her husband on the ground that he treated her cruelly, said that when Pastor Russell started the Zion Watch Tower Society in Pittsburgh she was entirely in his confidence. She said that he sold memberships in the society at $10 each, and at the last election in Pittsburgh, of which she had knowledge, 50,000 membership votes were cast, indicating that the society had taken in $500,000.

"Pastor" Russell, so his wife testified, also had William Van Amburg, secretary and treasurer of most of the concerns under the Russell management, buy land near Pittsburgh for a cemetery at a cost of many thousands of dollars. The stock of the cemetery was sold to the pious. The cemetery company was merged into the United States Investment Company, a holding corporation for Russell, under a contract which stipulated that only 10 per cent of the profits of the cemetery should go to the cemetery corporation stockholders, and that 90 per cent should go to the United States Investment Corporation.

Secretary Van Amburg stated that the salary as secretary and treasurer of the Russell concerns was only $11 a month. He could get work at a better salary elsewhere, he said, but stayed with Pastor Russell "because he loved the work."

DE ORO WINS OVER HUESTON

Cuban Retains His Title of Champion Pocket Billiard Player of the World.

New York, February 27.—Alfredo De Oro successfully defended his title to the pocket billiard championship by beating Thomas Hueston, of England, in a closely contested match of three games, two to one.

De Oro made 600 points in the three nights, while Hueston made 500. The Cuban took the lead the first night, and never was in danger. Hueston improved in his play to-night, giving De Oro the hardest fight of the series by scoring 127 in the third and final block.

The game went through twenty-six frames before De Oro scored the final ball, the game and the match.

RECORD MARKS IN TOLEDO TOURNEY

Toledo, O., February 27.—Although only two squads were on the alley at the Terminal Auditorium this afternoon, several changes took place in the standing of the minor events, new leaders arising in the doubled and second round.

In the doubles, Seibert and Eick, two bowlers on the Overland team, set a new tournament mark for the two-man event when they rolled 13 and 12, their games, passing the former record by thirty-three pins. In the first game the pair marked up 412, due to a double by Eick.

In the second game Seibert split both of them below the 20 mark, but he made up for it in the last game when they totaled 412, Seibert securing two doubles and a triple, which more than offset the deficit done by his two now.

In the singles, D. J. Sweeney, a member of the Wooster-Lambert team, set a low club record three double centuries for the first time in the tournament and, incidentally, went into second place in the individual standing.

His teammate, Wooster Lambert, started out in great style, getting 25 in his first game. He had a fine count in the second, when he rolled 13 and 12, but he was suddenly hit by a 15. Not discouraged by the loss, Lambert again set a low club score, and succeeded in hanging up a 206 count, which gave him a total of 615 for the three games.

PRECEDENT MAY BE OVERTURNED

Wilson Proposes to Spend Part of Each Day at Capitol.

PLAN CAUSES DISCUSSION

Leaders Reluctant to Discuss It, Though Some Seem to Approve.

Washington, February 27.—Livid discussion was precipitated in congressional circles to-day by a published statement credited to President-Elect Wilson, that he intended to spend part of each working day in the President's room at the Capitol, to keep in closer touch with legislative affairs. Such action on the part of the President would overturn a precedent which has restricted the President's visits to the Capitol to the last hours of a session of Congress.

Democratic leaders to-day discussed the reported plan of Mr. Wilson with reluctance, though many seemed to favor it.

"If President Wilson wishes to come to the Capitol and advise with Congress, he will be welcome," said Senator O'Connor.

"The closer the President and Congress can get in the transaction of public business, the better it will be," said Senator Pomeroy, of Ohio.

His expression was concurred in by Senator Johnson, of Maine.

The chief reason for the long established precedent keeping the President in the White House, a mile away from the Capitol, is said to be a sentiment in the House and Senate to what has been interpreted as "presidential encroachment" upon the freedom of action of Congress.

Some Democratic leaders of the Senate, they believed, Mr. Wilson would find it impossible to leave his executive duties and visit the Capitol from day to day and that he would not find it so easy to confer over the progress of legislation at the Capitol as at the White House. Some Democrats expressed the opinion that such visits of a President might not be received with favor if he came to take a hand in shaping legislation.

"Much will depend on what he comes for," said Senator Tillman. "If he comes to advise with us, we shall be glad to have him; if he comes to dictate to us, and I do not believe he would, we should not want him here."

When he has an opportunity to study conditions at a closer range, I think he will change his mind about coming."

Senators Fletcher, Democrat, and Burton, Republican, spoke approvingly of the plan.

"We shall be glad to have him; it will give us an opportunity to get acquainted," said Mr. Burton.

"It is a good thing to do if the President can spare the time. To have him retain control of his office by unfair means. In September the election of President occurs. He has already shown a disposition to keep all opponents from the polls. This means that he will be elected again."

"Before the election of President there are minor elections throughout the country. Some means to have his adherents placed in the offices or where the people will vote. He has shown already that those who will agitate the country are not good. They are thrown into jail or exiled."

"President Gomez knows that the man beloved of all the people in Venezuela is General Hernandez. He is called 'El Mocho,' which means 'the maimed.' He lost all the fingers of one hand when in trouble with President Castro years ago."

"It is true that he offered his sword to President Castro at the time of a threatened intervention by foreign powers, but that was only to protect the country. At present he is acting independently. If he and Castro win the fight for the liberation of the people from Gomez you may expect trouble between them. They may fight each other, but at present, though they will fight Gomez."

"The expedition from New York will be only a small part of the forces that will be under the control of General Hernandez. Men who in Panama, in Porto Rico and in Europe will also be in his command. Castro is in Cuba, and his forces, as you know, will start from there."

"As that is needed for the overthrow of Gomez is for Hernandez to land arms in Venezuela. Ten thousand rifle, cannon, and ammunition are already there."

Reside the schooner that has just sailed from Jacksonville one is now being loaded at Mobile and another at New Orleans by men who profess allegiance to Hernandez despite denials of those in New York. The schooner backing is said to come from a prominent Philadelphia who has been promised large concessions in the event of success.

PRELIMINARY COMPLETE FOR REVOLUTION

Castro and Hernandez Propose to Overthrow Gomez in Venezuela.

EXPEDITIONS ARE READY

Filibustering Parties Already Have Set Out From Jacksonville.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, February 27.—A revolutionary expedition to Venezuela, the object of which will be the overthrow of the Gomez regime and the elevation of either Ex-President Cipriano Castro or General Jose Manuel Hernandez to the presidency, has been organized here in New York.

Recruits are being mustered, plans for the invasion formulated, and although denials are vehement, it is learned that filibustering parties have already sailed from Jacksonville, Fla. The organization in New York is under the direct supervision of Dr. Nicanor Bolet, grandson of General Jose G. Monagas, for a long time President of that country. General Hernandez, known as "El Mocho," is also in New York. Both these men will accompany the New York contingent when the time for invasion is at hand.

Simultaneous with the landing of the Hernandez party near LaGuayra, Castro will disembark his expedition near Barcelona. The two forces will proceed toward Caracas, their ranks being augmented by thousands of partisans, who only await the arrival of the liberator to take the field. It is learned that no less authority than Dr. Bolet himself, that 10,000 stands of arms are available in Venezuela. All that is needed is the landing of the leaders and their immediate supporters.

In a few days a proclamation by General Hernandez will be issued, and shortly afterward the departure of the forces will begin.

One phase of the attack on the established government in Venezuela is the insistence of the Hernandez party that it is not working in conjunction with the army that Castro intends to lead. It is admitted, however, that both armies will attempt at the same time to fight the forces of President Gomez.

A division of the forces of the government will thus become essential and at the same time the landing of two parties will mean there will be two main depositories in different parts of the country to which citizens of that country will readily flock.

Dr. Bolet, who was secretary of the Venezuelan legation at Washington during the Harrison administration, to-day he is a prominent figure in the action by the patriots of his native land.

"Juan Vicente Gomez, the present President," said Dr. Bolet, "is provoking trouble. He is ignoring the constitution of the country and plans to retain control of his office by unfair means. In September the election of President occurs. He has already shown a disposition to keep all opponents from the polls. This means that he will be elected again."

"Before the election of President there are minor elections throughout the country. Some means to have his adherents placed in the offices or where the people will vote. He has shown already that those who will agitate the country are not good. They are thrown into jail or exiled."

"President Gomez knows that the man beloved of all the people in Venezuela is General Hernandez. He is called 'El Mocho,' which means 'the maimed.' He lost all the fingers of one hand when in trouble with President Castro years ago."

MORGAN'S ILLNESS

Hereafter, Money King Must Content Himself With the Simple Life.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Cairo, February 27.—Henceforth J. Pierpont Morgan must not indulge in the pleasures of the past. According to the doctors, his illness was a timely warning against persistence in taking overnourishing meals in this tropical climate, which might have ended in worse troubles. The doctors say that Mr. Morgan's exceptionally fine physique still insures many years of life, provided he abstains from luxuries of all kinds, leads the simplest life and adopts a most regular mode of living.

Mr. Morgan had entertained hopes that the doctors could relax the strict rules regulating his diet, but to-day he was plainly told that he must renounce the rich meals and wines and reduce his diet to plain food to three. The financier showed the keenest disappointment, and questioned the doctors as to the weather as certain letters joint reply was that an infringement of the rules might cause a relapse with serious consequences.

A special cook has been assigned to Mr. Morgan, whose food is prepared for his respectability by the doctors.

This morning Ex-Senator Nelson W. Aldrich called, and Mr. Morgan, who was on the veranda, said in reply to the Senator's greeting that he was feeling better than he had for a week. In the afternoon he prepared to go out driving, but as the weather was uncertain he returned immediately to his apartment.

MARSHALL WILL BE NO FIFTH WHEEL

Marshall declared that "I would spend my last dollar for an American citizen's life, but I would not spill one drop of blood to save an American citizen's dollar."

"It is very difficult to say what would constitute a reason for intervention in Mexico," he continued. "There are so many rumors that I doubt if even those in the ground know the real facts. There are charges that syndicate heavily interested in Mexico is fomenting the trouble; also that along the border there will be some Americans killed to force intervention by the United States. My own view is that the troubles in Mexico are due to the fact that there is an upper crust and an under crust, but no middle class in that country."

"I don't blame those who have money locked up in Mexico for wanting intervention," he said.

The Vice-President-elect made it plain to interviewers that he was not in any way reflecting the views of President-Elect Wilson, with whom he was in conference to-day in Trenton.

CUBS WORKOUT IN WIND-STORM

Tampa, Fla., February 27.—The Cubs worked three hours to-day in the midst of a whistling windstorm. Although it interfered with the catching of flies, the wind was just cool enough to temper the heat of the blazing sun.

The old routine was gone through, high-low, batting and fielding practice, warming up pitchers and an occasional slide into second base.

None of the players felt any ill-effects of Wednesday's game. Reubach did not tend himself in the three innings he pitched, and aside from a little stiffness his arm is all that could be expected at this time of the year. The Cubs play the Cubans to-morrow.

FOR CHILDREN'S ACCIDENTS—FOR OLD FOLKS' AILMENTS.

To the ASTYPTODYNE CHEMICAL CO., Wilmington, N. C.:
Gentlemen,—I feel that I owe you a debt of gratitude, and I employ this method of telling you about it.

About thirty years ago I was afflicted with a sore on my leg, which continued to spread until it extended from my knee to my ankle. I suffered great pain, and at times I could not get around at all, and had to lose months at a time, with a large family to support. I had about given up ever getting any relief, and was in a bad way, when I was induced to buy a bottle of your ASTYPTODYNE HEALING OIL. After using the first bottle I began to get better; in fact, after the first application I began to get relief, and was able to sleep all night where a few days previously I was unable to rest at all during the night. After I had used up the third bottle (25c size) my leg was entirely cured and I was able to walk several months. Wish to say this testimonial is voluntary on my part.

Yours very gratefully,
